

After TEES MAAR KHAN it is Shirish's turn to direct!

Mumbai, April 24: Certainly and without even a hint of doubt, Farah Khan is presently the most successful women director of Bollywood, and two back to back blockbusters in the form of MAIN HOON NAA and OM SHANTI OM are a perfect pointer to the fact.

However, husband, Shirish Kunder, a top editor could not prove to be a successful director with his debut directorial venture, JAANE-E-MANN, despite a dream cast comprising Salman Khan, Akshay Kumar and Preity Zinta, failing at the turnstile.

As most know Farah Khan is presently busy with the shooting of the Akshay Kumar and Katrina Kaif starrer, TEES MAAR KHAN, which she plans to release in December. After that she will take a break from direction and it will be her hubby's turn to wield the megaphone.

Farah reveals that she and her husband will take turns at directing films. After TEES MAAR KHAN, Shirish will direct not one but two films, one starring John Abraham and the other, Akshay Kumar, who is now turning out to be favourite with Farah and her family (Brother Sajid's HOUSEFULL with Akshay is due to release soon!).

Well, here's eagerly awaiting both HOUSEFULL and TEES MAAR KHAN!
