

Cracks in Cong over Telangana out in the open

New Delhi, December 15: The fissures in the Congress over the Telangana issue today came to the fore in the Lok Sabha with Y S Jaganmohan Reddy along with some other party members joining a TDP protest against the decision to carve out a separate state from Andhra Pradesh.

Jaganmohan, son of late Chief Minister Y S Rajasekhara Reddy, even stormed the well of the House, joining the TDP members who had trooped in there earlier.

The TDP members were carrying placards saying 'We want united AP'. Jaganmohan also borrowed a placard from them as they shouted slogans in support of a united Andhra Pradesh.

Jaganmohan was joined by Congress members K Bapiraju, B Jhansi Lakshmi, Magunta Sreenivasulu Reddy, K S Rao and some others.

This forced Speaker Meira Kumar to adjourn the House for 15 minutes as her pleas to restore order did not fructify.
