

Sameera stumbled upon a matrimonial ad of herself

Mumbai, November 25: A source reveals that the ad has all the details about Sameera and makes it look like she's desperate to find a groom. "She was totally shocked that the ad had her details like her date of birth, her vital statistics and family information.

Also, they put up a picture of hers, saying she's looking for a groom. It looked like an authentic matrimonial ad," says the source. Reddy's friends and close ones have started joking about it as well.

Sameera is amused by the existence of such an ad and says, "Do you think I need to go to a website or take its support to declare that I want to get married?"
