

Telangana statehood stir to be intensified

Hyderabad, February 03: The separate Telangana agitation will be intensified after the year-end examinations of students are over in March, TRS President K Chandraksekhar Rao said Thursday.

"We will intensify the agitation once again. Students will have examinations in March. After all, they are our children. The Joint Action Committee (JAC) is discussing the issue. We will announce the plan of action soon," he said, addressing a gathering of TRS workers' wing at the party office here.

He criticised the Centre for not acceding to the separate statehood demand despite an agitation being conducted in its support.

Hitting out at the Andhra Pradesh's Congress Government over its promise to create thousands of jobs, the former Union Minister said it should first regularise the service of temporary workers.
